

Photo courtesy of CHS Inc.

GROWING A CLIMATE for Tomorrow

SOCIAL MEDIA TOOLKIT

NATIONAL AGRICULTURE DAY—MARCH 21, 2023

Celebrate the dedication of America's farmers and the bounty of American agriculture on National Ag Day. Producers, agricultural associations, corporations, universities, government agencies and individuals join each year to recognize the importance of agriculture in our country. Please join us and help spread the word!

SHARE THE STORY of American Agriculture

2023 AG DAY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Amy Bradford, Growmark, Inc., Chair

Jenni Badding, John Deere, Vice Chair

Marty Wolske, Successful Farming, Secretary/Treasurer

MEMBERS

Nancy Barcus, AFA

Tom Brand, National Association of Farm Broadcasting

Susan Carney, Corteva Agriscience

Isabella Chism, American Farm Bureau Federation

Cynthia Clanton, CHS Inc.

Celya McCullah Glowacki, National FFA Organization

Lynn Henderson, Agri Marketing Magazine

Nick Tindall, AEM

Don Tourte, Farm Progress

Greg Horstmeier, DTN/Progressive Farmer, Past Chair

MARCH 21, 2023

No one is more committed to protecting the land than America's farmers. Learn more about how farmers are Growing a Climate for Tomorrow during National Ag Day—March 21, 2023.

#AgDay23

Our country's soil, air and water are our most precious resources. America's farmers are Growing a Climate for Tomorrow that protects them all. Learn more at agday.org. #AgDay23

Ag Day turns 50 this year! Be part of the celebration and show your appreciation for American farmers and their hard work on March 21, 2023. Find ideas for getting involved at agday.org. #AgDay23

Ag Day events mark a nationwide effort to tell the true story of American agriculture. We're so fortunate to have dedicated growers and producers who feed our nation. Celebrate #AgDay23 on March 21.

Ag Day wants to help young people consider career opportunities in the agriculture, food and fiber industries. American ag is essential now and for our future. #AgDay23

How will you mark Ag Day's 50th anniversary this year? You'll find some great ideas at agday.org! Help spread the word and let's thank America's farmers and ag families for feeding, clothing and sheltering us. #AgDay23

How is American ag Growing a Climate for Tomorrow? Join me for National Ag Day on March 21, 2023, to learn all about it! Get all the details at agday.org #AgDay23

There are many events associated with Ag Day—not only on the national level but in communities and schools across the country. Get involved at agday.org. #AgDay23

Even if you won't be joining us for Ag Day events in D.C., you can still get involved in your local community! For more info, visit agday.org. #AgDay23

GROWING A CLIMATE for Tomorrow

#AGDAY23

This year Ag Day celebrates 50 years of recognizing and honoring the importance of American agriculture. Join us for this important milestone! There's more at agday.org. #AgDay23

The Agriculture Council of America is hosting the Ag Day Declaration Event again in 2023 and the Essay Contest winner will be honored! It'll be held on March 21 in Washington, D.C.! #AgDay23

Farmers are innovators committed to leaving a healthy world for future generations. Discover how America's farmers are Growing a Climate for Tomorrow at agday.org. Celebrate National Ag Day on March 21, 2023. #AgDay23

National Ag Day recognizes and celebrates the abundance provided by American agriculture. Join us on March 21 to show appreciation for all those who keep us fed no matter what. Find out more about #AgDay23 at agday.org.

There are more than seven billion people in the world — that's over seven billion mouths to feed every day. On Ag Day, March 21, show your appreciation for the American farmers who make this possible. #AgDay23

The Agriculture Council of America will bring 100 students to Washington, D.C., to deliver the Ag Day message to the Hill. It's never been more important to share how essential American ag is for our country. Learn more at agday.org. #AgDay23

America's farm families are stewards of the land, water and air. March 21, 2023 is National Ag Day — a great time to thank farmers for all they do. There's more at agday.org. #AgDay23

The Agriculture Council of America would like to thank all of the sponsors of #AgDay23. Thanks for supporting American ag!

Have you registered for #AgDay23 events in Washington, D.C.? See what's going on at agday.org.